Rumors of “Gun Threat” Addressed

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

On Monday rumors of a “gun threat” made its way through the grapevine of social media (Facebook & cell phones) and had some students and parents anxious about the situation at the JCHS. However, the rumors were just that...rumors. The story had its origin at the Rockcastle County High School. That school had its security heightened on Monday.

Rockcastle County High School Principal, Jennifer Mattingly, reported that the move stemmed from a disciplinary incident from the preceding Friday.

The principal said that during the weekend false rumors of a hit list were spread through texting and social network sites. A total of four extra officers were at the school, including sheriff’s deputies and state police troopers. The school also sent a letter home to parents.

Mr. Keith Hays (Principal, JCHS) said he was made aware

Funding Announced for Kentucky 30 Road Project

More than $20.5 million set aside to construction between Welchburg Road and Tyner

Representative Marie Rader, R-McKee (89th District) and Senator Tom Jensen, R-London (21st District) announced today that $20.8 million has been allotted for the continuing relocation and construction of new and safer Kentucky 30 in Jackson County. The money is part of the two-year road construction funding bill that passed in the recent 2012 Special Session.

“Eventually Kentucky 30 will serve as a major route connecting Interstate 75 and the Mountain Parkway, with Jackson County sitting in the middle of this new highway connector,” said Rep. Rader. “Hopefully this commerce corridor will help bring new businesses and new jobs to Jackson County, while providing a safer roadway for those who depend on Kentucky 30 to travel to and from work or their doctor’s office.”

“In Kentucky highways can be the lifeline to improving economic de-

Four Jackson County Schools win “Energy Oscars”

Local students enjoyed the “red-carpet treatment” tonight at the Energy Oscars, which honored excellence in producing videos about the value of saving energy.

Jackson Energy Cooperative and PRIDE unfurled the red carpet at the Jackson County Area Technology Center to premiere four videos that promote energy efficiency with great creativity and persuasiveness.

The special guests were the students from Annville Christian Academy, McKee Elementary School, Sand Gap Elementary School and Tyner Elementary School who created the videos, along with their teachers and families. At the three Jackson County Schools, students were members of the Student Leadership Technology Program (STLP).

The students crafted scripts about why and how to use energy wisely. They acted out the scripts to produce two-minute videos. Jackson Energy edited the videos and made them available to the public at www.myjacksonenergy.com. The videos also will be broadcast by PRTC on the local cable Channel 9.

“We’ve gathered here this evening to honor you, our Jackson County students and teachers, for your creative minds and ‘on-a-shoestring’ video production skills,” said PRIDE’s Mark Davis, who co-hosted the awards program.

“Because of you, more families will know how to hang onto their money with simple energy-savings tips, and our community will be a greener, more energy-efficient place to live,” Davis said.

Sexton celebrates 40 years as a volunteer firefighter

The Sand Gap Fire and Rescue honored Horace Sexton on Thursday April 26 with a cake to recognize his 40 years as a volunteer firefighter. Horace became a volunteer fireman on November 17, 1971 when he was one of the 12 original members that organized the Pond Creek Volunteer Fire Department. Horace has over 3,000 training hours and currently assists with training at all the county fire departments.

Funding Secured in State Budget for Veterans Memorial Site

Judge Smith meets with Sargent Morris to discuss Veterans Memorial plans.

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

At a time when every budget in the state has experienced cuts, Senator Tom Jensen, State Representative Marie Rader and Jackson County Judge Executive William O. Smith have coordinated with Frankfort to improve Jackson County by working on plans for a Veterans Memorial Site in which to honor those who have served this country and those that have given their life. The plan is to have markers with the names of all veterans from Jackson County for all to recognize and

“You already have influenced thousands of people because 9,763 votes were cast for your videos online,” said Jackson Energy’s Haley McCoy, co-host. “You generated that online excitement by inviting your family and friends to choose their favorite video. McKee Elementary attracted the most online supporters, followed closely by Sand Gap Elementary. Thank you all for drawing so much attention to this important topic.”

Each school was awarded an Energy Oscar trophy, which was similar in appearance to the trophy presented to Academy Award winners.

Annville Christian Academy won the “Super Energy Hero” trophy for developing a memorable character to champion the cause of energy conservation.

The McKee Elementary School video, which recreated an evening news broadcast, took home the trophy for “We’re Not Gonna Heat Jackson County!”

Sand Gap Elementary School won the “Two Minute Tips” trophy for covering the most energy-efficiency advice in a quick video.

Tyner Elementary School earned the “Light’s Out!” trophy for its video that was filmed entirely at night, using cell phones to coordinate cameras and lighting.

Each school also earned the PRIDE Environmental Education Project of the Month Award for participating in the Energy Oscars. The award recognizes creative, effective strategies for inspiring passion and action for the environment.

“We are grateful to the educators who guided the students in this project,” said PRIDE’s Davis. “The teachers were Carol Madden, Annville Christian Academy; Angie Carol of Tyner Elementary; Nina Ingram, Sand Gap Elementary; and Jenny Wilson, McKee Elementary. Wonda Hammons, who is the Jackson County PRIDE Environmental Education Liaison and an artist, advised students at all four schools about the energy issues in their videos.”

Jackson County Judge Executive William O. Smith also presented the winners of a recent road sign contest. The signs, which will be posted along KY HWY 30, encourage motorists not to litter the highway. Road sign winners were – Laney Scott, Annville Christian Academy; Cameron Parrett, McKee Elementary; Jakob Gabbard, Sand Gap Elementary; and Michael Amyz, Tyner Elementary. Two local Girl Scout Troops were also recognized for designing signs. McKee Girl Scout Troop 1564 designed a sign that will be located at KY HWY 89 at the Jackson Valley Apartments. Tyner Girl Scout Troop 164 produced a sign that will be installed at Tyner Elementary.

Davis thanked Jackson County Schools and PRTC for partnering with Jackson Energy and PRIDE. He thanked the Jackson County Area Technology Center for use of its facility; Robinson’s Premier Meats and the Jackson County Extension Service for providing a reception; Clay County High School for loaning the red carpet; and Wonda Hammons and Gerald Maupin for creating an elegant backdrop for the evening.

The Energy Oscars is an environmental education program created in partnership by Jackson Energy Cooperative (www.myjacksonenergy.com) and PRIDE (www.kypride.org).

Annville Christian Academy students Alexa Anderson, Amber Pennington, McKenzie Bargo, Zachary Madden, Hunter Wade, Laney Scott and teacher Carol Madden.

McKee Elementary students Kenneth Clements, Mikayla Hammonds, Katie Tutt, Madison Cox, Paige Peters, Taylor Mullins, Lexie Marcum, Raelon Creech, Cameron Parrett and teacher Missy Wade. velopment and making our Commonwealth a great place to live and work,” said Sen. Jensen. “I’m pleased to have worked with Rep. Rader and petitioning the Governor and the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet to prioritize funding for this next section of Kentucky 30.”

The $20.8 million, which is set aside in the current fiscal year of the road appropriations plan (FY12) will pay for the construction of a new section of Kentucky 30 from three-tenths of a mile west of Welchburg Road east to U.S. 421 near Tyner. The money is designated in the road as a high priority project using state transportations funds.

In addition to the funding for the Kentucky 30 project, $300,000 has been allotted in FY14 for design work on a new bridge on U.S. 421 over Pigeon Roost Creek near the intersection with Water Street.

of the rumor hours before school started on Monday. Any situation such as this must be dealt with in a serious manner. There was an investigation and the information kept tracking back to the incident at the Rockcastle County High School. Nonetheless, the Jackson County Sheriff’s Department was called and they conducted a walk-through of the building before giving the school a clearance that all appeared safe.

discovered in the rubble and dispatch was immediately notified. This occurred at approximately 7:00 am the next morning.

The Deputy Fire Marshall (Doug Neeley) and a representative from the KSP Fire Investigators (Pat Alford) were deployed to the site to conduct an investigation. The coroner’s office was called in later. The man was identified as James Rice. Reports indicate that Rice had lived at the home for many years.

According to information obtained at the Lakes Funeral Home, James Coburn Rice (better known as Curley), was born April 7, 1968 in London and departed this life Friday, April 27, 2012 in Tyner, being 44 years of age. He was the son of James Earl Rice of McKee and Ruth (Middleton) Truett of McKee.

Students Help Furnish the New JCHS

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporterr

The Jackson Co. Board of Education upon recommendation of Superintendent Mike Smith approved (5-0) to pay $7410.00 for material and supplies for oak bookshelves/cases.

The students in the wood product manufacturing class at the ATC are building the bookcases. Each classroom in the new JCHS will get a bookcase.

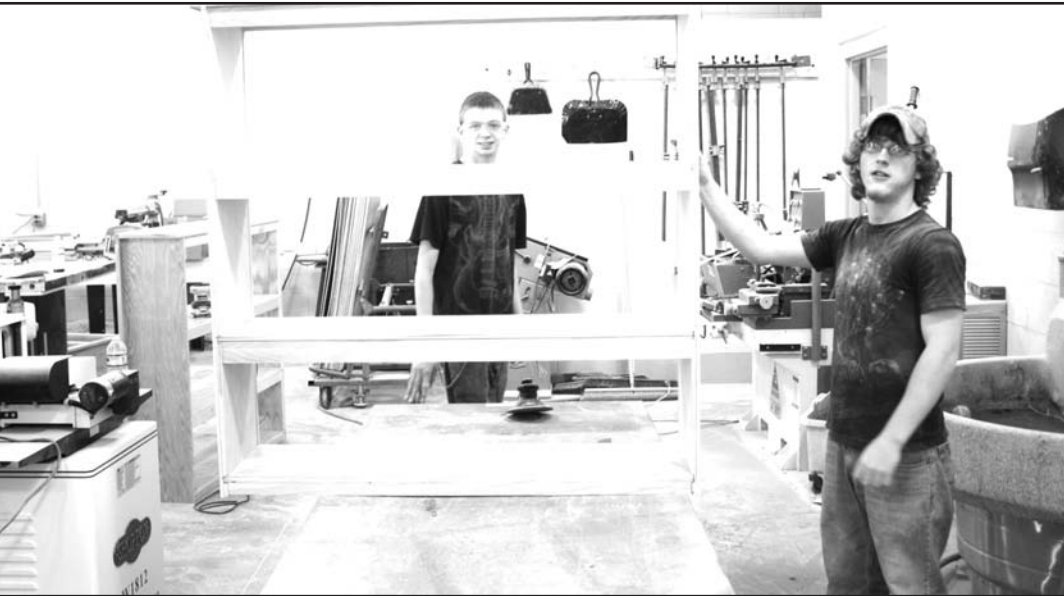

The approval for this project was granted at the February 21, 2012 regular meeting, and it was item #10 on the agenda.

The $ 7,410.00 also included the purchase of a spray gun, tank and hose assembly ($1,244.38), which the Wood Product Manufacturing Class will keep and use on future projects.

In addition, to giving the students an opportunity to get real-life application for their skills, according to Mr. Wilder (Wood Technology Instructor) the in-house project has saved the school approximately $10,000.

On top of the financial savings these shelves are incredibly well constructed and are beautiful.

Purvis attends FBI women’s leadership conference

Kentucky Farm Bureau held their Annual Women’s Leadership conference on April 13 and 14, 2012 in Bowling Green. This conference is held each year to bring volunteers together from across the state to learn how to better tell the story of Agriculture. The conference included legislative updates on both local and national concerns and workshops such as Investing for Tomorrow, Funding Innovative and Effective Ag Literacy Programs, and Advocating for Your Future – Telling Your Story. Several tours were offered for the ladies to see first hand the operation of local Agricultural businesses such as Jackson’s Orchard, Chaney’s Dairy Barn and Restaurant, SouthUnionShakerVillage, and Summer Crest Winery.

Jackson County Farm Bureau was represented by Women’s Chair, Phyllis Purvis who spoke during the Ag Literacy Workshop about JacksonCounty’s Ag Literacy program. With the help of a Mini-Grant from the State Women’s Leadership Committee, JacksonCounty’s Women’s Committee was able to purchase 90 1st grade level Agriculture related books and donate them to the library of each public elementary school in the county.

TRUE VINE

INSPIRATIONAL THOUGHTS INTO GOD’S WORD

Author: Lynetta Hunter truevinebook.com

Acts 15:13-35, Epistle of James - Part 3 of 3

Saul was a fervent and callous man when it came to fighting for what he believed in. At this time, Saul’s obsessive mission was to persecute Christians and none were exempt from the fierce vigor he put into it. As the gospel grew, persecution grew; so leaving Jerusalem was probably the only way for the new converts to stay alive if they were to continue to claim faith in Jesus Christ. This led to the scattering of Christian Jews into surrounding territory.

The struggle which lay ahead would yield great results, though not recognizable during their hard trials. Their caring and honest mentor infused knowledge in them concerning the unified way of Christianity, and how it can only be experienced by surrendering to the Holy Spirit for renewing of our mind and remolding of our heart. Some Jewish Christians tried to pull Gentiles into the bondage of their law for justification of unification, because their established law was so strongly embedded in them. Law-oriented people are not quickly transformed into Spirit-led people. If a false belief is rooted deep in us, it normally has to be broken and pulled out of us by much prayer and submission to God, through His Word and Holy Spirit. Even the great Apostle Peter got caught up in this hypocrisy of being double-minded instead of firmly testifying of freedom in Christ. Apostle Peter eventually learned, and widely proclaimed, spiritual maturity is attained and becomes our dominant lifestyle only by being selfless and allowing the Holy Spirit to impart Godly character in us through faith testers and trials.

Godly traits are not magical, they have to be imparted and formed into us. The more we yield to God, obeying His Word and Spirit, the quicker and less painful it will be to get to the place where we are sanctified and purified for God’s use. Apostle James concluded his exhortation with what would be the final result of all the other teachings he had encouraged them with; to come together in spiritual unity with love for each other, admonishing and enduring in the love of God until the coming of our Lord. As with them, it takes time for every believer to mature in Jesus Christ; however, much peace, patience, and freedom will be produced by endured trials.

“A Simple Man”

Part 30

It had taken close to five hours to make it up the mountain and down the other side, so the brothers knew it was time to start back to their cabin if they wanted supper. Will was good at finding mint leaves for them to chew on while they tromped through the woods, while Clarence would be on the lookout for berries they could eat. As they walked through the woods, they started singing all the songs they knew the words to. Will had a deeper voice, and Clarence had a higher voice, so they sounded like they were harmonizing on the songs. Clarence had wanted to learn to play the guitar, but mother told him that she was sorry, but did not have any extra money for things that were not necessities. He knew his mother wanted him to have a guitar and would buy one if she could. His older sister and his father had learned to play the guitar and each had promised to teach him someday. Clarence doubted either would ever have the time or the interest to teach him, but he kept hoping. He was anxious for a new song whenever he could learn one. Since his father traveled and had more contact with the outside world, he was the best source for a new song occasionally. When one of their daddy’s relatives would come to the cabin to visit, mother would cook for days in preparation, and there would be music in the house. They would bring instruments with them and Clarence would get to pick around on a banjo or mandolin when the relatives came to visit. That was a real treat and something for all to look forward to. Just before Clarence had left home to attend high school, his father started teaching him the basic chords on a old guitar that someone had given him. To his complete shock, his daddy gave him the old guitar when he left to board for high school.

When the brothers were back to a familiar group of oak trees about half a mile from their cabin, they decided to climb the oaks. It was usually a tie, or fairly even as to who got to the top of the tree first. As the boys were hanging from the highest branch, they heard a wagon coming up the road. The wagon stopped right under the tree they were in and they recognized the man driving the team of horses. It was their father. He got off the wagon seat stretched and looked around. The boys remained still and watched him. Will had a pocket full of acorns he had collected, and he grinned at Clarence as he dropped a couple acorns close to their daddy. Their daddy looked up and reached for his shotgun! The last acorn was falling out of Will’s hand, when a shot was fired from their father’s gun. It hit the tree, just inches above Clarence’s head!

Conservation District Cost Share Program Announced

The Jackson County Conservation District will be accepting requests for cost share funding under the Kentucky Soil Erosion and Water Quality Cost Share and Environmental Stewardship Program beginning May 14, 2012 and extending through June 15, 2012.

The Kentucky Soil Erosion and Water Quality Cost Share Program along with the Environmental Stewardship Program are created to help agricultural operations protect the soil and water resources of Kentucky. These programs were established by the Kentucky General Assembly in the 1994 and 2000 and over the 17 years of these programs approximately $120 million has been approved to plan, design and install much needed best management practices on approximately 14,200 farms to protect soil resources and water quality.

These annual cost share funds are administered by conservation districts with priority given to animal waste related problems and agricultural district participants where pollution problems have been identified. Initial funding for the program will be provided by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture and now also utilizes the Tobacco Master Settlement Agreement Funds.

These programs are administered at the state level by the Soil and Water Conservation Commission and the Kentucky Division of Conservation, located in Frankfort. Applications are ranked statewide and approved for funding based on available funds.

Signs to be removed from state right of way

Signs block motorists’ vision, pose hazards for drivers and workers

Department of Highways personnel are encountering an increased number of campaign and advertising signs on the right of way of state-maintained routes.

“This is a matter of safety,” said Tom Napier, chief district engineer for the Department of Highways District 11, which includes Jackson, Laurel, Clay, Leslie, Whitley, Knox, Bell and Harlan counties.

“These signs restrict sight distance at busy intersections. They are often placed in the ‘clear zone,’ which is the recovery zone for motorists who run off the roadway. Others interfere with our maintenance activities,” Napier said.

Illegally-placed signs will be moved to the state highway garage in each county and kept for two weeks. Owners may claim them by showing identification and completing a claim form. Unclaimed signs will be discarded.

“The signs will be removed without regard to whom they promote. We will treat all illegally-placed signs equally,” Napier said.

Kentucky law and Transportation Cabinet policy prohibit the placement of political or other advertising signs on state right of way, including signs attached to utility poles within the state right of way.

“When our employees remove illegally-placed signs, they are simply doing their jobs as required by law and as directed by the Department of Highways,” Napier said. “We appreciate the public’s understanding and cooperation.”

Generals Play Competitive with Clay County

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

The Generals traveled to Clay County last Monday. Even though the Tigers are ranked in the top 5 in the 13th Region, the Generals gave them a great game. “Chance Westerfield pitched 5 quality innings. We fell behind 0-5 until the top of the 3rd when we scored 3 runs on a Trenton Mathis double with the bases loaded. We added another run in the 4th inning. The score remained 4-5 until the bottom of the 6th when Clay scored 5 runs on 3 General errors,” reported Coach Kip Wells. The Generals were defeated by a final score of 4-10. “I was pleased with our comeback effort in the 3rd inning and the way we battled in the 4th and 5th. We have some little things to work on, but with hard work I feel we can be very competitive in the upcoming games and the District Tournament,” reported Coach Wells.

The Generals upcoming schedule:

May 7, 12	South Laurel	away	5:30 PM

Lady Generals Split Last 4 Games

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter
In coordination with Lady Generals Coaching Staff

“Ladies have been in somewhat of a slump for the last week. Struggling at the bat but still managed two wins along with 2 losses. The loss to Berea on Wednesday April 25, 2012 was a stronger effort than when we visited them about a month ago, much stronger defensive effort. The Lady Generals could not get the bats moving against a strong Whitley County team and put forth little defensive effort in the loss to Whitley. However, the squad received a much needed win against Lee County last Monday night on the home field at Tyner. The team was still in a slump with hitting but were able to hold on and get a victory,” reported the coaching staff.

JCHS Drama Club Performs Beauty and the Beast

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

Last Friday night, April 27th, 2012 the JCHS Drama Club performed a single performance of Beauty and the Beast. The Beast is transformed into a handsome prince. In the story Prince (played by Brandon Gay) informs Belle (Brooke Maupin) that long ago a fairy turned him into a hideous beast after he refused to let her in from the rain, and that only by finding true love, despite his ugliness, could the curse be broken. The Prince finds true love with Belle and they are married and live happily ever after together.

The cast for the play was as follows: Maurice (Noah Day), Gaston (Zach Gay), Lefou (Chase Gilbert), Lumiere (Austin Stewart), Cogsworth (Brian Tussey), Mrs. Potts (Telena Hibbard), Chip (Jazzlyn Threlkeld), Babette (Sarah Sparks), Madame De La Grande Bouche (Aerial Sandlin), Old Beggar Woman/Enchantress/Statue (Lauren Cunagin), Madame D'Arque/Bookseller/Narrator II (Rachel Hays), Baker/Narrator I (Katie Adams), Sound (J.D. Klang), Lights (Breanna Smith), Stage Manager (Austin Bailey).

Special thanks were extended to Mrs. Nola Coubert, Mr. Lonzo Moore and the V-school Staff and Mr. Jerry Sparks.

JCHS Students Team with KET for Healthy Cooking

Jerry Sparks,
Senior Reporter
In coordination with Ms Angie Tincher (YSC, Director) and Mrs Heather Smith (JCHS, Family and Consumer Sciences Teacher)

On Monday, April 30, Jackson County High School Family and Consumer Sciences Students and Jackson County High School Students Taking Charge were treated to a culinary experience. Representatives from Kentucky Educational Television were on hand to film this event and to include it in one of their upcoming health documentaries. Chef Jim Whaley who serves as a consultant for Jefferson County Public Schools worked with Mrs. Heather Smith's classes each block to create a menu consisting of Orange Chicken, Sesame Noodles, and Roasted Fresh Vegetables. All students had the opportunity of cutting, chopping, peeling, sautéing, roasting, and serving foods to create a meal. Students then ate their own meal that was created by their classmates at the end of each class.

Some of the items students worked with included chicken, ginger root, green onions, egg-plant, asparagus, fresh pineapple, carrots, and angel hair pasta. Students were excited to try recipes with things they were familiar with and other items that many of them had not had the opportunity to try. Students were very open to trying new foods and all students surveyed enjoyed the experience.

The goal of this project was to teach students about eating healthy and how fresh fruits and vegetables do taste good. With rising childhood obesity and other health concerns, students need more exposure to how to prepare healthy foods and to make healthy food choices. Ms Tina Garland (KY Department of Agriculture, Farm to School Program Coordinator) also attended the event.

After filming the culinary event, the KET film crew also met with agriculture students and families picking up seeds at the high school greenhouse. It took many special people to make this event possible. A special thank you to Chef Jim Whaley, Mr. Mike Smith, Mr. Keith Hays, Mr. Lonzo Moore and his staff, Mrs. Diana Miller and JCHS Cafeteria Staff, Ms. Lynette Renner and Ms. Rhonda Bowling from Cumberland Valley Health Department, Mr. Adam Sowder and Ms. Tracy Thomas from Promise Neighborhood, Ms. Tina Garland - State School to Farm Coordinator, Ms. Jane Higgins - Brushy Fork Institute, Ms. Loretta Gilbert - Title I Coordinator, Ms. Angie Tincher – Jackson County High School YSC and most of all Jackson County High School Family and Consumer Sciences Teacher Heather Smith and Students as well as Students Taking Charge who put forth their best efforts and behavior to make Jackson County High School shine.

Local Educator, Loretta Gilbert, is the Region 7 Coordinator for Prayer Flight. Prayer Flight Observes National Day of Prayer

By Neal Broadus,
Contributing Writer

The National Day of Prayer is observed on the first Thursday in May of each year. This year, Thursday, May 3rd, 2012 has been designated as America's National Day of Prayer. The tradition of observing a day of prayer in America goes all the way back to colonial times. On July 20, 1775 the Continental Congress issued a proclamation, which recommended a day of prayer. Later, President John Adams declared that May 9, 1798 be a day of prayer for our country, and during the Civil War, on March 30, 1863, President Lincoln issued a proclamation, which designated April 30, 1863 as a national day for prayer. Finally, President Truman signed a bill on April 17th, 1952, which proclaimed that each following president must declare a National Day of Prayer on a date of their choosing. The law was later amended in 1988 to designate the first Thursday in May as the National Day of Prayer.

Many different people and groups observe the National Day of Prayer in many ways. One such group is Prayer-

Flight. To mark the occasion PrayerFlight attempts to cover the country in prayer. They do this by getting pilots in all 50 states to fly over their state's capital city while praying for that state. PrayerFlight began this unique way of observing the National Day of Prayer five years ago in 2008, and have continued it every year since then.

According to PrayerFlight, they believe their participants' perspective in flight allows them the opportunity to see God's awesome creation and be reminded of their duty to pray for their country.

To be able to coordinate such a large undertaking requires the hard work and dedication of many people. In order to help break the job down somewhat, PrayerFlight has divided the country into ten regions. Each region then has a regional coordinator that helps to pull things together. Kentucky is in PrayerFlight's region seven along with West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, and Washington D.C.

So, where would a national organization like PrayerFlight get their regional coordinators? It just so happens that the coordinator for region seven is from Jackson County. Her name is Loretta Gilbert, and she is the Federal Programs/

LORETTA GILBERT

Title I Coordinator for the Jackson County School System. She got involved with this program as a unique way to observe the National Day of Prayer, and as another way to serve the Lord. This year she has recruited the following people to be prayer warriors for region seven: Kentucky - Roy Cantrall; West Virginia - Alan Harper, Jarrell Ryan, Richard Caty and David Hersman; Virginia - Mark Leroy; Maryland and Washington, DC - Austin Nimocks.

On May 3rd they will take flight over Frankfort to pray for our people, our state and our government. So, this Thursday, be sure to pray for your country, and remember to look up, because somebody up there may just be praying for you.

40 JCHS Students Call Hotels in Spain!

A few of the students who obtained information from hotels in Spain.

Submitted

During their last unit in Spanish 1-B, forty students were able to successfully prove their knowledge of the content by phoning hotels in Spain via the Skype® telephone feature to obtain general information about the hotel (i.e. costs per night, amenities, location, etc.). Not only did this experience grant them the opportunity to broaden their horizons beyond their immediate environment, but it also allowed them to speak in the target language via telephone! For those not familiar with conversing in a second language, this can be one of the most difficult tasks of all, since one cannot see the individual's facial gestures when conversing. Additionally, students had to adjust to different time zones since Spain is six hours ahead of the Eastern Standard Time zone in the United States.

The assignment required students to complete three formative phone calls, with notes, and one summative phone call, without notes.

We applaud and thank these students for their excellent work in the field of Spanish, and Señor Anama for his donation of Skype® credit for the phone calls

Jackson County Middle School celebrated Pi Day on March 14th. We celebrated Pi on that day because the digits 3, 1, and 4 are the most recognized part of Pi. Pi is the ratio of circle's circumference to its diameter. This ratio forms a decimal that does not terminate and does not repeat; therefore, the digits of Pi continue into infinity in no particular pattern. The truncated version of Pi, which is 3.14, is used in most mathematical computations.

Students at JCMS were asked to memorize as many digits of Pi as they could. Students had two weeks to prepare for the competition, and on March 14th, over 30 students competed to see who had memorized the most digits. Winning students were treated to a lunch of pizza and pie. The top ten students are pictured below, and their results are listed in the table.

Congratulations to the ten winning students, and we want to applaud everyone who participated!
